The Apostle Islands are a beautiful series of islands that spread out into Lake Superior at the northern end of Wisconsin. In your sea kayak, you can explore secluded beaches, sea caves, cliffs and old growth forests with newfound friends.

HERE’S WHAT TO EXPECT:

We will begin our journey learning the skills of kayaking in the shallow beach waters of the mainland in the Apostle Islands National Lakeshore near Bayfield, WI. Then, we will load all of our gear into kayaks and head out to the islands to camp, learn about Lake Superior, each other, and life at UMD. Everyone will be involved with paddling, camp set-up, cooking, cleaning, and hiking.

- There are 22 islands in the Apostle Islands
- Numerous sunken ships dot the region. We will paddle over the Fedora and the Ottawa.
- Kayaks are great boats to use on Lake Superior because they are very sea-worthy and watertight.
- Some of the Apostle Islands have old growth forests, while others have been farmed or have had sandstone quarries.
- The water in some of the sheltered bays can get fairly warm, even up to 65 degrees.
- We eat well on these trips with meals ranging from stir-fry to Mexican night. There will always be a vegetarian option.
